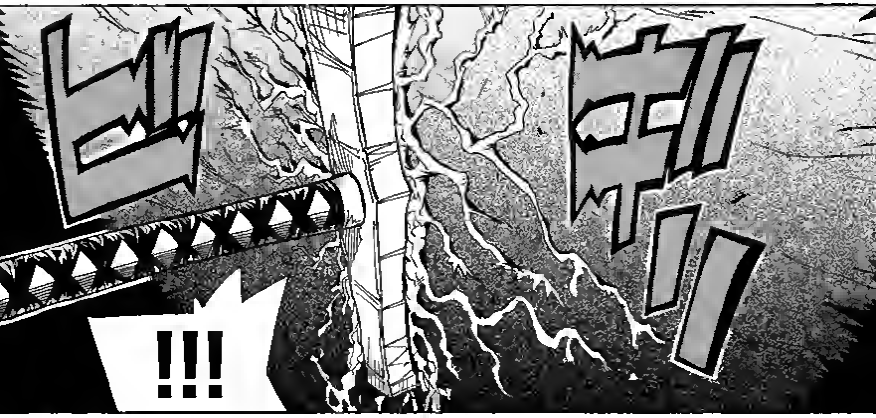
T/N. This is a phrase for something that reminds one of a particular season.

T/N: The above sentence is a poem about the fame of Uzumasa being a God of Gods, as he had the strength to strike down the God of the eternal world which people worshipped. A remarkable achievement



T/N 2 page 05: The origin of the name: In ancient Japan, a cult of worshipping a bug that resembles a caterpillar, calling it the God of the eternal world started. The people wasted their wealth on offerings to the god in range of the growing cult. the head of the Hata clan, Hata no Katakatsu, started chastising people who worshipped the bug, and thus the people stopped worshipping the bug and the new religion got destroyed. Hata no Katakatsu found his own temple Uzumasa in Kyoto and thus Uzumasa's name was spread throughout Japan as the God of Gods and the people feared the above now to praise
